Name of Mutual Fund Company: _____

Name and Symbol of Mutual Fund: _____

Mutual Fund Share Class:

- Class A Shares: have a front-end sales charge which may be reduced if you make a large initial purchase, your household already holds other mutual funds offered by the same fund family (Rights of Accumulation or ROA) or you commit to regularly purchasing the mutual funds' shares to accumulate to a larger dollar amount (Letter of Intent or LOI). This is referred to as a breakpoint. They also have internal operating expenses that are typically less than other share classes.
 _____ I understand ROA and (do / do not) already own funds within the same fund family that will allow you to reach a breakpoint at the $ _____ level. Account number(s) to be considered are: _____
 _____ I understand LOI and (do / do not) agree to making additional purchases within the required time frame as outlined in the prospectus. This will allow you to reach a breakpoint at the $ _____ level.
- NAV Transfer: Does this investment qualify for NAV transfer as defined in the fund prospectus? YES NO
- Class B Shares: usually have no front-end sales charge, but generally have a contingent deferred sales charge (CDSC) and an asset-based sales charge, which may be higher than Class A shares. After the time period for the CDSC has been eliminated, Class B shares typically convert to Class A shares, and the internal operating expenses also change to that of Class A shares.

- Class C Shares: usually have no front-end sales charge, but may charge a CDSC (typically in the first year). Class C shares usually have higher internal operating expenses than Class A or Class B shares.
- Other Share Classes: may be offered by fund companies, often times to accommodate qualified (retirement) money. If an alternate share class is purchased, please explain: _____
